Sergeant Alex. Chalfant, who served overseas for the past twenty-two months, arrived in Charleroi this morning for a visit with his sister, Mrs. M. T. Vrowley. Sergeant Chalfant went out wth the Bucknell Unit of the ambulance Corps in 1917 and served with the Ambulance Service of the French army. During his service abroad he saw every part of the battle line from Dunkirk to the Swiss border. After a visit with his sister to his Sergeant Chalfant will go on home, which is now in Salem, Ohio.

Hawker, the sporting world's idol of the moment, fell some considerable distance from his pinnacle when he made a slurring reference to the transatlantic passage of the American aviators. His English auditors revealed their sporting blood when they received his utterance in dead silence.

BURGESS SUSTAINS A FRACTURED ARM

Burgess Woodward is carrying his left arm in a sling as a result of an accident which occurred at the car barn shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday e vening. He was on his way to Eldora park at thetime, and had changed cars at the barn. After seating himself he placed his left arm on thewindow sill, not noticing that a post stood near the car. When the car started his hand and forearm was caught b etween the post and the window frame, which resulted in the large bone in the forearm being broken. Immediately after the accident the Burgess called on Dr. Viealet, who reduced the fracture. The accident will considerably discommode Mr. Woodward, who, being a "port sider," will require an assistant to do his clerical work.

NEW TRAINS FOR THE LAKE ERIE

Increased train service will be provided on the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad by the new time card which becomes effective on Sunday next. A number of trains which were taken off shortly after the United States entered the war will be restored, while Sunday excursions which were a feature of the Lake Erie, will again be placed on the schedule.

The Monongahela Division will profit by this change, two addtional trains being added. One train will leave Pittsburg at 1:05 p. m. and the other will leave Brownsville at the same hour. This will give the people on the east side of the river the mid-day service that was in effect two years ago, and likewise increase their postal service.

England is justly proud of Hawker's feat, but "Britannia Rules the Waves" is scarcely the proper national song to greet him with after a Danish ship rescued him and an American ship picked up what the waves left of his seaplane.

Delightful Reception To Youthful Society

The annual "Light Bearers and Home Extension" reception given by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian c hurch held Thursday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the church, was the largest in the history of the church.

The room was tastily decorated with roses and flowers of various hues, which made a pretty setting for the exercisess. The program was in charge of Mrs. Edwin McKay and Miss Myrtle C. Anderson was the pianist. Seventy children took part in the exercises and their work was highly commended. Especially was the exercises, "The Cradles of the World" enjoyed.

When the tables were set it was found that one hundred and six little "Light Bearers" were present. The present roll of the organization totals 120, and with the new ones received yesterday and those graduating into the "King's Messengers," the society one of the largest of any in the church. Many visitors were present and the hostesses were Mrs. Pfleghardt, Mrs. Cary Piper, Mrs. Earl Piper, Mrs. McKay, Mrs. C. S. McKean, Mrs. Pierce Ferguson, Mrs. Wessel, Mrs. H. A. Stahlman, Mrs. Swearingen and Mrs. Patton.

BATHING BEACH TO OPEN TOMORROW

The Charleroi bathing beach, which has been under repairs for the past two weeks, will be opened to the public on Saturday. The ladies department has been provided with a shower bath, and this is expected to add immensely to the popularity of of the beach. The refreshment stand will also be open, and the men's department will be ready for use. All of the improvements are not yet completed, but the management is hopeful that everything will be in readiness for a grand opening next week. Sunday evening next the band with the "World at Home" shows will give a free concert at the beach at 7 o'clock.

Communication

Mr. Swickey Makes Reply

Editor Charleroi Mail:—

I see in your paper of June 5, 1919, where the Ministerial Association protested against the authorities of our Borough, allowng carnivals to appear in said Borough and particularly against the Brown & Dyer which recently appeared on the Base Ball grounds, declaring that said Carnival demoralized the morals of the youths of our Borough.

Wish to state that on Wednesday, May 21, I was informed that there was some opposition to aforesaid carnival and that immediately got in communication wth the committee that had made arrangements to have said shows appear here, and asked to see thecontract between aforesaid parties. In this contract, I found expressly stipulated an agreement to this effect, saying t hat if there were any shows on the ground to which the Ministerial Assocation objected after an investigation, said shows would be closed immediately and have learned since that this is included in in all contracts. I would like to know in fairness to all, whether the objecting parties availed themselves of this opportunity and if so, why they did not appear before your Borough Council on Thursday, May 22, 1919, and give their reasons for objecting. Our Borough secretary informed me that he expected a large number of citizens at said meeting, he having been informed to this effect. Yet there was not one citizen present to protest.

However, one of the members of your Borough Council protested. Yet his protest was based on the fact that no license had been issued for said carnival. This was because our Ordinance was not clear to theBorough Secretary, and he asked that the matter be deferred until this meeting.

I believe that I can safely say the matter was fully discussed, after which a motion was passed by a vote of four to two granting permission to said committee to hold above named c arnival. However, this was unnecessary as our Burgess had previously g ranted permission and this is a matter that rests wholly with the Burgess. Yet when the matter was brought before council they decided it best to take action.

I wish to state further that I have no interests in Carnivals in any way. Neither do I in any way wish to shirk any issue that comes before me as a member of your Borough Council. I have met every issue fairly and used t he best judgment at my command.

In conclusion, I would ask the citizens to attend our Council meetings and become more familiar with the proceedings, also to acquaint themselves with the manner in which your business is being conducted.

Thankng you for your valued space I am

Respectfully yours,
H. L. Swickey,
President Boro. Council.
June 5, 1 919.

MORE ROBBERIES ARE REPORTED

Robbers are continuing their activity in this section of the valley, the ticket office of the Pennsylvania Railroad company at Roscoe being entered last night. The thieves did not get much, however, securing only what money was in the telephone booth. The robbers gained entrance by prying open one of the doors of the station.

In the local railroad yard an Armour car loaded with provisions was entered some time this morning but it is believed the thief was scared away before he was able to carry off anything of value. One ham was found that the robber had evidently dropped in his hurry to get away from the place.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING IN FAVOR OF ROADS AND BONDS

Instructive Talks on These Subjects Made Last Night

SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF ISSUE

An enthusiastic and representative audience of Charleroi citizens met in the Trust Company hall Thursday evening to hear the merits of the proposed million dollar bond issue discussed.

A number of visitors were present from Washington, including Harry R. Campbell, chief clerk to the county cimmissioners, Burgess E. P. Brownlee, H. F. Ward, J. M. McKee, county agriculturist, R. L. Munce, John F. Curran, James P. Eagleson and others, all of whom are good roads boosters, and all of whom had something to say in favor of the bond proposal.

The Washington visitors were guests of the Business Men's Association att he Hotel Wilbur, after which adjournment was taken to the Trust Company h all, where the meeting was held. John D. Berryman was chosen chairman of the meeting and who briefly outlined the purpose of the gathering. The first speaker of the evening was Mr. Campbell, who had made a careful study of the good roads question of the county, as well as the proposed bond issue. He presented a number of stereoptican views and showed a number of charts and tables which proved the advantages of the bond issue over the direct tax method of raising road funds, showed how small would be the burden on taxpayers and also exhibited a number of maps disclosing just what routes would be opened by the proposed improvements. His talk was most instructive and showed clearly the advantage of the bond issue.

J. M. McKee, county agriculturist was also one of the speakers of the evening and made a splendid address. He urged all to take a "See Your County' 'tour by automobile in order to learn the county, to meet the people in different sections and to learn of the needs of other localities besides our own.

E. P. Brownlee, H. F. Ward, R. L. Munce, Ben Mevay, T. O. O'Rorke, and John F. Curran, also made brief t alks, as well as a number of citizens form our town, all of whom voiced sentiments in favor of the bond proposition, which will be voted on at the special election to be held on the 17th of June.

Meetings will be held in all parts of the county during the next ten days it being the object of the Good Roads Association to reach as many people as possible in the county before the day of election.

From the tone of conversation with the v isitors there appears to be a growing sentiment throughout the county i n favor of the bond issue, and if the voters will respond as they should it is believed the measure will carry by a large majority.

WILL CONFER DEGREES SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The "perfect man" has been found in the person of one George A. Saxton, Jr., who has been passed for West Point by the army examining board as 10 0per cent perfect mentally and physically. Of course there is no announcement of the percentage of moral perfection which there was no means of ascertaining.

Charleroi Council, Knights of Columbus, will exemplify the second and third degrees at the Lyceum, beginning at 12:30 o'clock, Sunday ,June th, when 110 candidates will be received. The exemplification of the second degree will be in charge of Charleroi Council, while John B. McDonough of Reading, State Deputy Supreme Knight, together with his staff, will confer the third degree. At 6 o'clock, at the conclusion of the work, a banquet will be served at Turner Hall, at which W. A. McNulty of Pittsburg will be toastmaster, while the speakers will be John B. McDonough, Andrew McSwigan, who served in France as a Commissioner from the K. of C., and who only recently returned home, P. J McArdle and Tm F. Dunn, of Pittsburg and Tom P. Sloan of Charleroi.

ROADWAY WILL SOON BE COMPLETED

County Commissioner John O. Watson, this morning, said that the Maple creek road now under repair in the vicinity of Colvin's hill by the Donora Construction Company, would be kept closed for an additional two weeks in order to harden it before being opened to public use. The road is now opened to the top of the hill, but the portion on the southern end of the improvement will not be ready for autos and teams for another month. The road will be in good shape for summer traffic, as the contracting company has made a splendid job on this highway. The completion of the work was held up by the war.

ONE VOTE TO SIX

One may ardently desire a league of nations with power to save the world from the savage carnage of the last great war and yet almost despair of a satisfactory practical solution of so huge and complex a problem. The vastness of the difficulties may be seen in the mere fact that opinion as to what has been actually accomplished is as wide apart as the poles. For example, there are Americans who are confident that the covenant of the League leaves the Monroe doctrine intact, while other Americans contend that that doctrine has been sacrificed. The editor of the Paris Matin more than inclines toward the latter view. In a recent reply to the query as to whether the Monroe doctrine is violated by the League of Nations project, he says:

"It seems to me monumentally paradoxical and a trifle infantile to pretend the contrary. When the Executive Council of the League of Nations fixes the reasonable limits of the armament of Peru; when it shall demand information concerning the naval programme of Brazil (Article VII of the covenant); when it shall tell Argentina what shall be the measure of the contribution to the armed forces to protect the signatures of the social covenant (Article XVI); when it shall demand the immediate registration of the treaty between the United States and Canada at the seat of the league it will control, whether it wills it or not, the destinies of America. And when the American States shall be obliged to take a hand in every war or menace of war in Europe (Article XI) they will necessarily fall afoul of the fundamental principle laid down by Monroe, which was that Americans should never take part in a European war. If the league takes in the world, then Europe must mix in the affairs of America; if only Europe is included then America will violate her own doctrine by mixing in the affairs of Europe."

The editor of the Paris paper confuses the Monroe doctrine with Washington's farewell address. In the main however he holds the same idea as many of the people of America; and who believe that the adoption of a league of nations will be to the deteriment of the United States. Moreaver, giving six votes to Great Britain and but one to the United States is one of the features of this proposed league that is unacceptable to the American people. The forthcoming debates in the Senate on the adoption or rejection of the league will be among the greatest ever heard in the United States.

THE KEY TO PROGRESS

It matters not whether we are dealing with railroads, with a merchant marine, with manufacturers, or with agriculture—if we are to have healthy development there must be held out the inducement of probable profits as a reward for successful endeavor. Few people in this world work for their health or the mere pleasure of working. In a national emergency men are impelled by patriotism to make great sacrifices. In some lines of effort, as in public life, literature, art or science, men work largely for the renown that goes with success. But in the business world, where men risk their capital, there will be slight progress unless there is greater probability of financial success than of failure. It may be safely put down as axiomatic, therefore, that any industry operating under either natural or artificial disadvantage which has small hope of financial rewards will languish or cease to exist. Recognition of that truth was the basis of the Republican policy of a protective tariff which is designed to assure American producers that they will not be driven out of business competition with cheaper production abroad. Repudiation of the truth is the basis of Socialism, Bolshevism, I. W. W.-ism and allother isms that propose to reorganize the world upon an idealistic scheme which denies to enterprise reasonable rewards for success. The fundamental fault of government ownership is that it removes the incentive presented by the hope of financial reward. Regulative legislation is undoubtedly necessary to protect the rights of all the people but those regulations become inimical to the interests of all when they tend to retard development. In this vitally important period of reconstruction we shall do well to keep constantly in mind the lessons taught by experience and avoid in the future those policies which lead to repression and strangulation.

HE CRIBBED 'EM.

To a correspondent writing to the Fort Wayne News to ask why it omitted mention of Ireland in its review of the failure of President Wilson's furteen points, the News replies that "if the truth must be told it was principally for the reason that President Wilson made no mention of Ireland in his Fourteen Ponts. He knew mightly well that England was averse to Irish freedom, so he carefully avoided any reference to Ireland's cause. To be sure, Ireland might be said to be included in the clause concerning 'self-determination,' but not being specifically named it is easily forgotten by our beloved chief executive." It was just another instance of what Theodore Roosevelt characteried as "weasel words." Any meaning could be put into them or out of them. It is probable that another reason for omitting specific mention of Ireland in the Fourteen Points was that the said 14 points were quite apparently plagiarized from Lloyd George, as Col. George Harvey has on more than one occasion indicated. The program given out by Mr. Wilson in January, 1918, was almost topic for topic that given by George to the House of Commons some weeks before.

VICTORY LOAN FIGURES

It is gratifying to learn that the Victory Loan of $4.500,000,000 was oversubscribed to theamount of $5,250.000,000. There were twelve million subscriptions to the Victory Loan as compared with twenty-one million for the fourth Liberty Loan, seventeen million for the third. 10 020.000 for the second and 4.500,000 for the first. This falling off in the number of subscriptions as compared with the third and fourth loans, notwithstanding the fact that the Victory Loan offered a higher rate of interest, shows that the small subscribers throughout the country were patriotically thinking more of aiding the government than of making a safe and profitable investment. The people came forward and subscribed to the third and fourth loans in the largest numbers because the excitement, the suspense and the consciousness of urgent need were then greatest. The Victory Loan, coming when the war was safely over, naturally met with a smaller response numerically.

Appreciated Cats.

When Mulai Hafid, sultan of Morocco, succeeded to the sultanate he found the sacred city of Fez infested by rats. Without any loss of time he at once nationalized all the cats of Morocco and issued a command that many thousands of them should be brought into Fez for service. For some time a law has existed in Hongkong making it compulsory to keep cats in every house, the number varying according to the size of the house.

Religions of the World.

According to the latest available figures, the religions of the world are divided as follows: Christians, 564,510,000; Confucianists and Taoists, 300,830,000; Mohammedans, 221,825,000; Hindus, 210,540,000; Animists, 158,270,000; Buddhists, 138,031,000; Shintoists, 25,000,000; Jews, 12,205,000; unclassified, 15,280,000.—People's Home Journal.

The Milky Way.

The arch of the Milky Way stretches across the evening sky from east to west, rising between Orion and Gemini, where Jupiter seems a gorgeous diamond depending from its laces; passing through the golden chain of Cassiopeia in the zenith, and descending to the western horizon between Vega, the dazzling gem in Apollo's lyre.

Odd Foods.

Sea urchins' eggs are used in Ceylon as we eat raw oysters here. The Mexicans use a variety of scorpion, after removing the sting, in a special sort of omelet, to which they add a peculiar sort of peppery flavor. A large variety of locusts and grasshoppers are dried, then cooked, by people in portions of India, Arabia and Syria.

Artistic Shop Signs.

Between Cuzco and Machu Piechu, in Peru, are quaint signs indicating what is sold in the Indian huts. A small bunch of wheat on the end of a pole indicates chicha—a native corn beer—for sale within. A green wreath means bread for sale, while a piece of white cloth indicates aguardiente, a powerful white rum.

INSPECT WORK AT BELLE VERNON BRIDGE

County Commissioners John O. Watson, Thomas Hill and A. P. Barnam met with the Fayette county commissioners at the Belle Vernon bridge this morning at 9:3 o'clock to inspect the work done on the east side pier of the structure and which is now completed. Contract for this work was let about a year ago, but was held up on account of the war. The pier had been in bad shape for some time, but it is believed that the repairs now made by the contractor will make this structure as strong as any of the others now supporting the bridge.

Mammoth Statue of Buddha.

The most remarkable image in Kamakura, Japan, is not in a temple. It is the well-known Dai Butsu, or great Buddha, which sits alone in meditation with only the sky for a roof and casual visitors and a priest in attendance. The grove which surrounds the Buddha seems dwarfed beside his giant proportions. The statue is said to measure 50 feet in height, the head alone being 9 feet. This giant Buddha is one of the relics of Kamakura's thirteenth century greatness. It has survived because it is made of bronze plates fashioned by the best metal workers in Japan. It is one of Japan's very few monuments that can aspire to rival in longevity the pyramids.

Just a Pet Name.

When I was assisting the county clerk in the office last summer a couple came in for a marriage license. As they knew no one in town they asked where they could find a minister. The clerk said he would call one and the ceremony could be performed in the inner office. The minister arrived and the ceremony started. When it came time for the bridegroom to put the ring on her finger he got it on the wrong one. She corrected him with: "Oh, you little pickle," and the ceremony proceeded.—Exchange.

Mrs. A. Vogel of Pittsburg Tells How Ten-Herbs Restored Her Health

"An attack of indigestion or dyspepsia are in themselves the simpliest ailments i maginable." said the Ten-Herbs Man, "but if the truth were known they would be found to be even more dangerous than some of the most terrible fevers. They may be trifling, but they are a never-failing s ign t hat the stomach is not performing its proper functons.

"When the stomach is not properly digesting the food, there is no limit to the way affections can spread to every o rgan of the body, producing intestinal poisoning, rheumatism, liver and kidney trouble and many other distressing ailments.

"Ten-Herbs the famous herbal stomach remedy, is invaluable in aiding such cases. It acts almost like a miracle, purifies the blood, causes the food to digest perfectly and puts the entire system in a strong, healthy condition, and we are daily in receipt of signed statements from well known local people verifying this contention.

"Only the other day Mrs. A. Vogel, a popular Pittsburg lady, residing at No. 106 Holzer street, gave the following:

"I have had trouble with my stomach for the past three years, was bloated with gas, could not digest my food, had headaches, and was so nervous could not sleep; my back pained me terribly, and I got in a badly run-down condition. I would have awful distress after eating any food. Since I have taken Ten-Herbs I am feeling fine, sleep well and am able to get my meals and digest them I feel stronger and better in every way." Ten-Herbs is sold in Charleroi at Henning's Drug Store.

Tanlac has done my mother so much good."

MAY RE-FLOOR DONORA BRIDGE

At the joint meeting of the commissioners of Fayette and Washington counties, held this morning at the Belle Vernon bridge to inspect the work done on the east pier, it was decided to have the structure painted and the Controllers will be directed to advertise for bids for this purpose.

On Wednesday, June 18, the commissioners of Washington county will meet with the commissioners of Westmoreland county, at which time the question of reflooring the Donora bridge with block will be taken up and discussed. Commissioner John O. Watson has been in favor of this improvement even since he has been in office, believing that such a floor would do away with a lot of expense which the county is compelled to meet in the way of repairs in order to keep the bridge passable. The wood floor of this bridge, which has never given satisfaction, has been a continuous source of complaint from all those who are compelled to use it.

STATE VERSUS COUNTY

There be some it appears who wish to raise an issue as to the difference between the character and cost of the roads to be built by the State Highway Department and those built by the county. The Washington Observer commenting on this phase of the situation says:

"As the issue has been raised by some of those who are opposed to the million dollar bond issue, we might say that every observer of good roads in this county, every intelligent and discerning business man, knows that under the present road administration at Harrisburg only that kind of a road is being built which will stand the wear and tear of both present and anticipated traffic.

"And, from past experience, we know that the large majority of the county roads here been built without regard to the future wear and tear and that many of them must be entirely rebuilt.

"One of the objections which have been raised to the million dollar bond issue has been that the roads will not be built for permanent use. The answer to that is that the State Highway's plans and specifications call for roads which will last even though they cost from 20 to 25 per cent more than some other roads whose cost of maintenance year after year will be enormous.

"As a matter of fact, the State Highway Department now has under consideration the resurfacing of the entire National road, splendid as it is, with a view of making it a permanent highway whose future maintenance will be practically nothing for years to come.

"Every man with a little common sense knows that the State Highway Department is able to build roads cheaper than are the counties because they have a uniform method of building. They have one overhead expense to pay in the preparation of the plans and specifications and no road will be taken over by the State which does not come up to the plans and specifications prepared.

"Washington county, by spending one million dollars on state highway routes will receive another million dollars in roads paid for by the State.

"And if there is anyone so foolish as to believe that the county can get as good roads as the State is prepared to build and is building, at one-half the cost or even at the same cost, consistent with good workmanship and permanency of structure, it would be useless to reason with him. Those who are attempting to defeat the bond issue by making such absurd statements as those above mentioned will deceive no one."

TIME'S FLIGHT.

Twenty years ago many of the towns this section of Pennsylvania, as well as the city of Pittsburgh, were busy with preparations for the home coming of the Tenth Pennsylvania Regiment from the Philippine Islands. This regiment had been sent across the Pacific in the summer of 1898 to assist in holding what Commodore, afterward Admiral, Dewey had won from the Spaniards. The regiment mobilized at Mt. Gretna, where the various companies were increased in strength, after which the command left for San Francisco. There it received additional training and about a month after leaving Gretna it was on the way overseas.

The return of the regiment, although without their beloved commander, Col. Hawkins, who died while on the way home, was an event in the history of Western Pennsylvania. Pittsburgh outdid herself in the demonstration and President McKinley came on from Washington to greet the men. The boys of the "Fighting Tenth" were the heroes of the hour, and the reputation made by the regiment while in the Philippines always remained as one of its most cherished possessions.

A few weeks ago the people of the same section of Pennsylvania welcomed the boys of the "Old Tenth," but nationally known as the One Hundred and Tenth, from a strenuous year of service in France, where they again writ high their names in the annals of the American army. But who would have dreamed in 1899 that in twenty years we would be welcoming this famous old regiment from Europe after taking part in one of the greatest wars in all history?

OUR INDEPENDENCE

Americans deeply desire the safety of France and are perfectly willing to fight to maintain the life of France against attack by Germany. The wish in America is to make German aggression impossible, and if that cannot be accomplished, then Americans wish to make another attack mean nothing but suicide for Germany. They know, however, that America can best help France by remaining American under American control, instantly responsive to American will. They cannot see the virtue of placing America's co-operation with France in the hands of nine gentlemen of various colors coming from the ends of the earth with their own national interests first at heart, and some of them possibly secretly desirous of France's downfall.—Washington Post.

The resolution offered by Senator Knox in the United States Senate on Tuesday, with reference to the participation of the United States in the League of Nations, will likely precipitate a partisan debate in Congress. Nevertheless the resolution is one that will appeal to millions of American people who are not in favor of entangling this nation with the affairs of Europe.

This hot weather of June is bringing on the blackberry crop in fine style. From reports coming in from the country there will be acres of this luscious berry during the summer.

Washing Oysters.

"Old songs, old books, old friends"—and old methods of agitating oysters. Specialists of the bureau of chemistry, United States department of agriculture, have determined that oysters soak up a great deal more water and lose much more in nutrients when washed by the new air blast and mechanical device method than when washed by the old method, on a skimmer with a hose and paddle.

Planting Fruits in North.

In the north and wherever the winter conditions are severe on plant life, either from temperatures, drying winds, or other causes, fruits are usually planted in the spring as early as the soil can be put in suitable condition. It is important that they be set out while the plants are dormant and before the buds have started.—Weekly News Letter.

Executions Went On.

Some years ago the executioners of Canton struck against striking off any more heads unless they were paid an extra shilling for each head removed. The prisoners in the condemned cells were anxious that the strike should continue until the crack of doom, but the authorities climbed down and the executions went on as merrily as before.

Disliked Church Bells.

It is not everyone who regards the bells of London with affection. Keats expressed his dislike of the Sabbath bells in a sonnet, and there is a story of a man who was with difficulty dissuaded from becoming a Mohammedan in order to escape into a religion which was opposed to the ringing of church bells.

To Get Rid of Roaches.

The United States department of agriculture considers ridding a house of roaches important enough to give instructions how to accomplish this. Mix equal parts of sodium fluoride and flour (or starch). Use like ordinary roach powders, forcing it into crevices, sprinkling it around drain pipes, etc.

Faults.

Do not think of your faults; still less of others' faults; in every person who comes near you, look for what is good and strong; honor that; rejoice in it, and as you can, try to imitate it; and your faults will drop off like dead leaves, when their time comes.—Ruskin.

Could Verify Statement.

"There are songs," said the musician, "that never, never die. They go ringing down the ages." "That is true, sir," Brown replied. "For the past six months and upward I have heard my daughter try to kill two or three each evening, but they never, never die."

Gas in Bamboo.

Natural gas conveyed in bamboo tubes was utilized in China years ago, and one of their writers mentions boxes which repeated the sound of persons' voices that were dead—a machine similar to the phonograph.

The Folding Fan in Japan.

It is said that the folding fan originated with the people of Japan, which is likely enough to be true. For we can scarcely imagine a dainty little kimono-clad lady without her fan, can we?

THIS IS A TIP FOR MONONGAHELA

Cap'n Clark Sheets, who has charge of the fo'c'sle of the steamer W. C. Clingerman, speaking for the rivermen generally, wonders if it would be possible to have the proper authorities in Monongahela wash the face of the town clock. At the present time the dial is covered with grime and soot and it is quite difficult for mariners, passing by on the river, to note the time. This clock, which is a feature on the Central school building in Monongahela, is a landmark for rivermen, who depend upon it for getting the correct time, but as Captain Sheets says, "what's a fellow gonna do when he can't see the hands." Consequently the steamboat crews on the Monongahela would like to have a little more light on the clock.

LATCHEM RECOVERS FOR LOSS OF TEAM

The suit of John Latchem against the Pennsylvania Railroad company, an action for damages for the loss of a team of horses, a wagon and a set of harness, when the outfit was struck at the Speers grade crossing, was given to the jury at noon Wednesday, which later returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $789.75.

All of the Vesta Coal Company mines with the exception of No. 4 at California, are reported as having resumed operations.

Ornithology.

It is a surprise that awaits every student of ornithology, and the thrill of delight that accompanies it, and the feeling of fresh, eager inquiry that follows, can hardly be awakened by any other pursuit. Take the first step in ornithology, procure one new specimen, and you are ticketed for the whole voyage. There is fascination about it, quite overpowering. It fits so well with other things—with fishing, hunting, farming, walking, camping out—with all that takes one to the fields and woods. One may go a blackberrying and make some rare discovery; or, while driving his cow to pasture, hear a new song, or make a new observation. Secrets lurk on all sides. Tidings, news in every bush. Expectation is ever on tip-toe. What no man ever saw before may the next moment be revealed to you. What a new interest the woods have! How you long to explore every nook and corner of them!—John Burroughs.

It is so easy to find fault that self-respecting persons ought to be ashamed to waste their energies in that way.—Boston Transcript.

National Faults.

The guilt of every national sin comes back to the voter in a fraction, the common denominator of which is several millions.—Lowell.

Intelligence of Animals.

The hog is the most intelligent animal on the farm, except the dog. Horses are next, then cattle. Sheep have the least sense.

VERY DIFFICULT TO GET BOAT CREWS

Capt. Richard Herman, who brought out the steamer Aliquippa of the Vesta line this week, had considerable difficulty in shipping a crew for the boat. In fact rivermen appear to be so scarce that Capt. Herman was required to get men from the steamer B. F. Jones, which was retired temporarily from service for repairs. It transpires that about twenty-five former rivermen are employed by the government on important work at Lock No. 6, where it is expected that a new chamber will be constructed within a very short time.

It is also said that a contractor having a job which requires considerable excavating at Lock Four has had trouble in getting a sufficient number of men. Moreover but few idle men are found around mining settlements, particularly in the valley, as all of them appear to be able to find employment.

TAKING TIMBER FROM OLD HARLEM

The American Steel and Wire company is having all the timber cut off the old Baird farm in Carroll township, which it recently purchased from the Phipps estate. The land, which lies directly along the banks of the Monongahela, will be filled in by the steel company, and it is necessary to remove the timber in order to place the necessary railroad tracks.

This tract of land is located a short distance north of Donora, and in its day was one of the most beautiful spots in this section of the valley. It was the home of Judge Baird, a pioneer coal operator, and was known as "Harlem." The old brick house was of colonial style of architecture, and was maintained in a manner befitting a country gentleman. Judge Baird opened the old Harlem mine, later known as the "Bunard," and which was afterward owned by the late Capt. Lewis Staib.

The steel company is rapidly denuding the tract of its timber, and when it is filled with cinder and slag will make an ideal mill site, but from an artistic view point will appear rather desolate.

This is the closing day of school and the small boy is now prepared to enjoy a three months' vacation in such a way as only boyhood can.
